

Home > News > Expedition Cruising > EYOS Expeditions offers per cabin charter for Iceland yacht trip

Expedition

TRENDING NOW

KT Lim registers a company called Resorts World Cruises

APR 19, 2022

Sales and speculation: How things are shaking out for MV Werften

APR 14, 2022

Ribeiro to lead Carnival Corp. port/destination development, Israel remains key

APR 19, 2022

Industry veteran Mark Robinson named VP cruise operations at Scenic Group

APR 19, 2022

RECENT NEWS

Celebrity Beyond has first-at-sea luxury brands, artisanal products

APR 22, 2022

Carnival Freedom begins homeporting at Port Canaveral

APR 22, 2022

Boston welcomes American Queen Voyages' Ocean Navigator

APR 22, 2022

Costa's Raffaele D'Ambrosio is leaving

APR 22, 2022

EYOS Expeditions offers per cabin charter for Iceland yacht trip

Print Email Facebook LinkedIn Twitter Pinterest

The seven-cabin Hanse Explorer can accommodate up to 12 passengers

Anne Kalosh | Jun 21, 2021

EYOS Expeditions is offering a cabin charter adventure July 3-10, sailing around Iceland's wild northwest coast.

The scheduled departure will take place on the 154-foot, seven-cabin expedition yacht Hanse Explorer, offering the exclusivity of a private yacht experience but with the convenience of individual cabins for sale. Additional dates are available on request.

Exploring by Zodiac, kayak and on foot

Following the yacht's departure from Reykjavik, six days will be spent exploring Iceland's sea cliffs, speninsulas, fjords and wild rivers. EYOS guides will be on board to provide interpretation and insight along the way. Using the yacht's Zodiacs and kayaks, travelers will be able to access remote landings, visit deep canyons and search for wildlife, including Arctic foxes and puffins.

There will be an opportunity to hike trails in the Snæfellsjökull National Park, dominated by its glaciated volcano where Jules Verne's classic novel 'Journey to the Centre of the Earth' began, as well as trek along beaches, to sea caves, lava fields and grasslands. Travelers also will visit Breiðafjörður, a land and seascape dotted with about 3,000 islands, before heading above the Arctic Circle to land of the midnight sun on a visit to Grimsey.

'Best of the best' in seven days

'I have been visiting Iceland for more than 25 years. This itinerary has distilled the best of the best into seven days, focusing on arguably the most beautiful and wild part of the country, while still having opportunities to visit better known sites near civilization, including the amazing volcanic eruption that started this year and makes visiting Iceland particularly exciting,' EYOS Co-founder Tim Soper said.

CEO Ben Lyons added: 'This is a unique opportunity to experience a private superyacht without having to charter the entire vessel. Traveling with a maximum of 12 guests allows for a very personalized and intime experience, whether on board at dinner or on shore watching puffins. Time and time again, we find that the sheer excitement of an expedition always creates a natural camaraderie on board. After more than a year of COVID, escaping to the wilds of Iceland is a wonderful way to celebrate the ability to travel and explore again.'

Pricing

Hanse Explorer can accommodate up to 12 passengers. Per person prices are €16,000 (approximately $19,400) per person/week. Hanse Explorer will also be available for private charters for €155,000 per week (approximately $187,939) plus expenses throughout the summer.

Travelers are required to be vaccinated for COVID-19 to join this July 3 departure.

Copyright © 2022. All rights reserved. Seatrade, a trading name of Informa Markets (UK) Limited.

TAGS: PORTS & DESTINATIONS EYOS EXPEDITIONS ICELAND BEN LYONS

RELATED

Seatrade Cruise Global 2022

Silversea switches 2022/23 Antarctica turnarounds to Puerto
APR 22, 2022

Seabourn Pursuit hull is moved to T. Mariotti for outfitting
APR 20, 2022

Viking endows new chair of polar marine geoscience at Cambridge
APR 15, 2022

Advertise

Seatrade Maritime News

Follow us:

Seatrade Cruise News Editorial

Sitemap

Team

Contacts

